5 X 5 CHAIR

Made of xilith®

L

Made of xilith® an extraordinary material with a look of ebony

The uniqueness of the 5x5 chair is xilith, 2,5 million old raw material dug from 300m under the earth surface together with a coal lignite. But it is neither coal nor wood.

The majority of the raw material is thrown away so it generates waste on the earth surface. Xilith is extremely hard but brittle, difficult to be shaped in big dimensions. Therefore the idea about chair design seemed to be very provocative and the dimension 5x5cm was the challenging starting point for the design concept.

FRUITPLATE DROPLET

Drop, droplet.

Transparent water droplet– life.
Droplets of oil, wine, blood,
colour droplets – food.
Perhaps even a black droplet, droplet of crude oil / petroleum– wealth.
And last but not least, a droplet falling into the ocean,
leaving on the liquid surface
a trace of waves forming a half rounded shape – infinity, eternity, spaciousness.
All this and much more is encased within this droplet

The light of wood

The veneer lamp shades were first designed in 1962 by Nives and Franc Vehovar. Back then, the lights were completely handmade and were never mass produced. Fifty years later, with some changes in design and with the help of contemporary technologies, we have compiled an extended family of lights. New sizes, forms and usages were added in a wide range of wood veneers.

MOON seat

Innovative, modular and multifunctional seating elements

The Moon element is a simple but in many ways a useful piece of furniture designed for comfortable sitting, lying or use as a low table.

The Moon element is composed of two separate parts that fit together tightly forming a block. When we want to stretch our legs, Moon can be transformed into an easy-chair simply by shifting the upper part in the position of a backrest. We can also combine two or more Moon elements together and form different compositions, such as sofa, a combination of a table with one or more sitting elements, or a combination of four functioning as a bed.

Low-tech, ethno-chic

Ziba Ziba is a modern rocker bassinet made of thin birch plywood. Simple tool-free assembly and flat packaging makes it a great portable baby bed. Its design is contemporary yet it flirts with the tradition, fusing the retro solidity and decorative character with the comfort and functionality of the modern. Ziba Ziba is more than a functional piece of furniture. It has a lifetime value and will be handed over with pride from generation to generation.

RIBRAND

Set of Kitchen Utensils

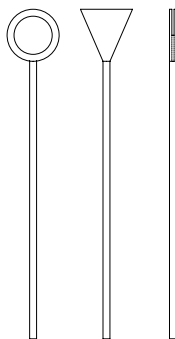

---

Wood for Food

This 3-piece set of minimalist kitchen utensils provides the user with a spoon for stirring, a spatula for pot scraping and a fork for pinching and turning. Each one in a very distinct geometric form and with a hidden magnet for storing purposes, allowing the user to either mount the set to a metal surface or easily store it as a compact 3-piece pack. The simplicity of basic geometric forms is what makes these utensils elegant yet playful, with a consistent approach that functionality is the key to success.

GOOGY

Rocking horse reinvented

Rocking horse reinvented

Googy is a designer's reply to the challenge of conventional rocking horses, which can be quite unforgiving to the clumsy approaches of toddlers and younger children. It is designed to provide fun, safety and comfort: it is soft and appealing, very well cushioned, extremely difficult to overturn, sturdy, and all of its surfaces are well rounded.

At the same time, Googy manages to have the irrevocable appeal of a plush toy. Even the youngest children are drawn to its soft and inviting presence. They immediately recognize a rocking horse in its simplified shape.
