Employers abroad, self-employed persons and clients (service recipients)
The Terms of Employment Posted Workers in the European Union Act (Wagf/EU) makes a distinction between employers abroad, self-employed persons and clients (service recipients).

Employers abroad are foreign employers who:

- Come to the Netherlands temporarily with their own persons to carry out work;
- Second employ or temporarily hire a multinational company to function in the Netherlands; or
- As a foreign temporary employment agency, make temporary agency workers available in the Netherlands, for a period of time.

Self-employed persons who come to the Netherlands on a temporary posting are obliged to notify in some cases.

Clients (service recipients) are the clients or companies for whom the employer abroad or self-employed person works.

If a company abroad or self-employed person contracts a third company to perform all or part of the work for a Dutch client, this involves subcontracting. In this case, the employer abroad or self-employed person functions as a client (service recipient). The third company notifies its own personnel and the employer abroad or self-employed person relays the notification.

Details
When notifying, employers abroad should notify at least the following:

- The identity of the person submitting the notification;
- The details of their company;
- The contact person, as referred to in Article 7 of the Wagf/EU;
- The identity of the client (service recipient);
- The sector in which the activities will be carried out in the Netherlands;
- The address (place) where the work will be performed;
- The expected duration of the work;
- The identity of the person responsible for payment of wages;
- The identity of the employee coming to the Netherlands to work;
- The presence of an A1 declaration or other type of evidence that shows where the social security contributions are paid for the employee(s), because of the contribution for the relevant social security scheme.

Self-employed persons with a duty to notify must among other things notify their identity, the identity of the client, the sector in which the activities will be carried out, the address (place) where the work will be performed, the duration of the work, and information about where social security contributions will be paid.

For more information on the data needed to complete a notification in the online notification portal, please check the checklist for employers or self-employed persons.

Help
If you have a question about the duty to notify or the Wagf/EU, please contact the SZW first. If you cannot find an answer there, consult Rijksoverheid.nl. You can also contact the public information service through Government.nl.

If you have a question about the notification portal or are encountering technical problems, please contact the Technical Helpdesk. You can find the contact details of the Technical Helpdesk in the online notification portal.
