The European Commission has presented practical guidelines to ensure the continuous flow of goods across EU via »green lanes«

The aim is to keep freight moving across the EU during the current pandemic.

To ensure that EU-wide supply chains continue to operate, Member States are requested to designate all the border-crossing points on the trans-European transport network (TEN-T) as 'green lane' border crossings. The green lane border crossings should be open to all freight vehicles, whatever goods they are carrying.

Crossing the border, including any checks and health screening, should not take more than 15 minutes.

The Commission recommends that Member States take action to ensure the free movement of all workers involved in international transport, whatever the transport mode.

In particular, rules such as travel restrictions, and mandatory quarantine of transport workers not displaying symptoms, should be waived.

Member States should not require that transport workers carry a doctor's certificate to prove their good health.

The Slovenian police force is preparing how to introduce this into its border management.
