- Beseda skrina je gorenjski dialekt za skrinjo in pomeni lesen zaboj, v katerem so naše babice hranile različne vrednosti namenjene za doto hčerki.
- The word skrina derives from the word "skrinja" from the dialect of Gorenjsko, presenting a wooden chest, where our grandmothers kept the valuable objects for their daughters' dowry.

Etnogalerija SKRINA na Bregu 8 v Ljubljani, je bila v akciji »Moja trgovina« (katero organizira mesto Ljubljana) že sedemkrat uvrščena med najlepše trgovine v Ljubljani.

Ethnogallery SKRINA, located on Breg 8 in the old city center of Ljubljana, has been seven times chosen as the most beautiful shop in the field of cottage industry and handicraft in the campaign named "Moja trgovina – My shop", which is organized by the city of Ljubljana.

Lonely Planet pa jo je v svojem vodiču označil za
»best - bar none shop for distinctly Slovenian folk craft«.

The Lonely Planet travel guidebook has described our shop as
“the best - bar none shop for distinctly Slovenian folk craft”.

This is the best shop - bar none - for distinctly Slovenian (and affordable) folk craft, like Prekmurje black pottery, Idrija lace, beehive panels with folk motifs, decorated heart-shaped honey cakes, painted Easter eggs, Rogaška glassware, colourful bridal chests and colourful stepped stools.

Zadnja leta krepimo svojo blagovno znamko »Etnogalerija SKRINA - Tradicija s posluhom« in razvijamo svoje lastne izdelke. Še vedno se navezujemo na slovensko tradicijo, vendar se na nov način odzivamo na potrebe sodobnega potrošnika.

Throughout the years, we have been strengthening our trademark »Etnogalerija SKRINA - Tradition with sentiment« by developing our own products. We are still forming an attachment to Slovene tradition, but in a new, modern way, by adapting to the needs of the modern consumer.

Preden pogledamo naš nastop na sejmu »Tokyo Lifestyle Fair«, bi vam rad predstavil nekaj osnovnih dejstev in posebnosti o Japonski in trgovaju z deželo vzhajajočega sonca.

Before we look to our participation on »Tokyo Lifestyle Fair« I want to present you some basic facts and differences about Japan and trading with the country of rising sun.

Nakupovalne navade Japoncev - Japanese shopping habits

Maloprodajna cena: če v Evropi velja, da cena od proizvajalca do trgovca poskoči za 2,2 krat je na Japonskem ta faktor 4-kraten.

Retail price: In Europe it is common that the price from producer to the customer is multiplied by 2,2. In Japan the multiple factor is 4.

V Etnogaleriji SKRINA smo dali novo podobo tradicionalni slovenski pručki, ki jo je v času naših babic imela skoraj vsaka hiša in se z njo pri GZS prijavili na projekt EU Getaway to Japan.

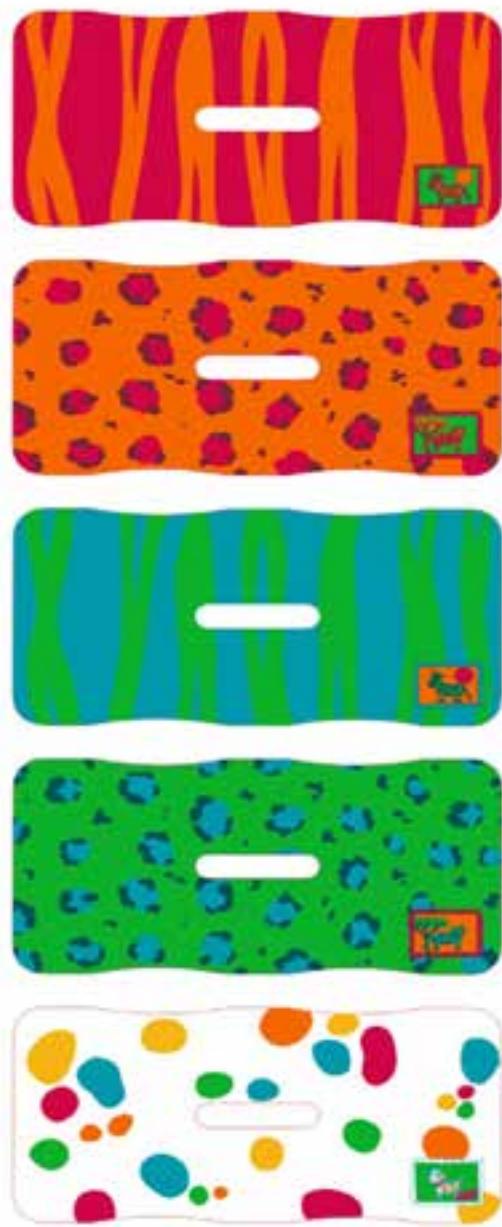

In Ethnogalery SKRINA we have given a new value to traditional slovenian step stool, which was in the time of our grandmothers nearly in every household. With a new designed step stool we applied to the Chamber of commerce and participated in the project EU Getaway to Japan.

Za japonski trg smo naredili pručko z motivom japanske pravljice "Strašna zver".

For Japanese market we made a step stool with a motive from Japanese fairy tale »Scary beast«.

Kupec pručko sam pobarva po priloženi predlogi in s priloženimi barvami.

The stool is painted by customer himself upon the attached sketch.

Ves propagandni material smo prevedli v japonski jezik.

We translated all the promotional material into Japanese language.

ŠE EN NASVET - FINAL ADVICE

Na Japonsko pošljite le toliko izdelkov, kot jih potrebujete za postavitev stojnice. Če nimate na Japonskem agenta, boste te izdelke zelo težko prodali. Lahko se vam zgodi, da boste morali plačati uničenje, oziroma poslati izdelke nazaj v Evropo.

Zato že prvi dan obesite na stojnici plakat, da iščete agenta.

You should send to Japan just as much items as you need to exhibit. If you don't have an agent in Japan, you might have problems with selling your items and so you will have to pay for their destruction or send them back to Europe.

Put the notice that you are looking for an agent on the very first day.
