Paper and paper converting industry belongs to the oldest, traditional industrial sectors in Slovenia.

The first paper mill, where paper was hand-made, was supposedly in operation in 1580, whereas industrial paper production started with the first paper machine put in operation in 1843 in Vevče. The industry that had one of the first steam engines in Slovenia, the first power plant, etc., was really the herald of industrial development.

Today, the paper and paper converting industry is a role model of sustainable principles implemented in industrial activities, as it uses recoverable raw materials in its modern, automated and environmentally sound production processes developed during many years of systematic work, and makes products which it recycles after use.

From the economy point of view, as well, the paper and paper converting industry is considered to be an important branch of processing industry; all paper mills rank among the largest Slovene exporters.

The Slovene paper and paper converting companies differ from each other, but they also complement each other; especially paper mills are niche producers of various segments of paper.

Paper mills are energy and capital intensive companies, whereas paper converters are more labour intensive. Especially large companies have foreign owners.

In 2013, there were 110 companies of the paper and paper converting industry in Slovenia:

- 7 large and 9 medium-sized enterprises, the rest were small or micro enterprises; or
- 7 paper mills and 103 paper converters.

Operating activities in 2013:

Total revenues in the branch exceeded € 700 million, of which a good € 500 million resulted from exports; so, almost 3/4 of the revenues were earned abroad, with more than 72% in the EU member states.

In 2013, the export revenues earned in the branch accounted for 3.04% of total Slovene exports.

Graph: Exports of the sector SKD 17 - Manufacture of paper and paper products in 2013 in €

The industry employs 4100 people, at least twice as many indirectly, and generates € 38,615 value added per employee on average.

Production volume in 2013:

1. 666,000 tons of paper and board (which is 0.73% of paper and board production in the EU), of which:

2. 225,000 tons of paper and board products, of which:

Slovenia 2013:

Paper and board consumption: 425,000 tons

Paper and board consumption per capita: 215 kg [EU average: 162.5 kg]

Recovered paper: 210,000 tons

Recycling rate: 60 %

Other organizations in the field of papermaking:

Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Slovenia Paper and Paper Converting Industry Association

The Paper and Paper Converting Industry Association [PPCIA], organized within the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Slovenia [CCIS], promotes the interests of companies producing groundwood, paper, [corrugated] board, pasteboard, transport and commercial packaging, and sanitary as well as other products made of paper.

The PPCIA is a meeting and linking point for companies, where ideas, skills and experiences of experts working in paper industry come together. The Association monitors current economic trends, formulates industry guidelines and positions regarding the solution of ongoing and development issues, and supports those addressing industry problems. For its members, the Association provides new opportunities for their competitive improvement and development breakthrough into an innovative society. It is an important place for coordinated activities on industry promotion and the centre of quality business information.

The operation of the PPCIA has been laid down in the Memorandum of the Slovene Paper and Paper Converting Industry, in which three major areas are defined: ENERGY, ECOLOGY and ECONOMY, representing the main challenges for the industry in these times. The key orientation of the PPCIA is to represent the industry's interests vis-à-vis business environment makers whose decisions may have an essential influence on the competitiveness of the paper and paper converting industry on the domestic, but above all on foreign markets. Since 2010, the PPCIA is a member of the Confederation of European Paper Industries [CEPI].

Pulp and Paper Institute

The Pulp and Paper Institute is a private R&D institution with a long tradition. It was founded in 1947 as a central development organization for the Yugoslav wood, paper and paper converting industry of that time. Since 1998, the founder's rights have been exercised by the Paper and Paper Converting Industry Association, organized within the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Slovenia. The R&D and advisory activities of the Institute cover the whole circuit from raw materials to end products (paper, board, pasteboard and packaging) as well as recycling and re-use of paper and wastes from the paper and paper converting industry.

With its infrastructure centre for paper industry [equipped with an accredited laboratory and pilot devices for industrial testing] the Institute provides comprehensive services for testing and development of measurement techniques in the field of fibre preparation, characterization of products made of paper, board and pasteboard, as well as waste water and solid waste treatment.

Within the Institute the Competence Centre for Human Resources Development in Paper Industry [KoCPI] is organized.

With its training and education programmes the Institute contributes to the development of competences and the promotion of the transfer of research results and technological progress into industrial practice, which results in an increased competitiveness of the paper, paper converting and related industries.

Pulp and Paper Engineers and Technicians Association [DITP]

The Association was founded in 1971 on the initiative of Prof Božo Igljič. Its members are technicians and engineers employed in the Slovene paper industry. The Association is registered as a society functioning in the public interest in research activities.

Each year it organizes the international professional symposium at the International Meeting of Slovene Paper Industry, which is traditionally held in Bled in November. Owing to its high professional level the symposium has won high reputation and recognition throughout Central Europe.

Together with the Pulp and Paper Institute and the Paper and Paper Converting Industry Association it publishes the professional magazine PAPIR, which delivers to its readers various technical articles as well as information on up-to-date developments and other interesting matters concerning the Slovene paper industry.

Each year, the Association organizes visits to paper and board mills for its members in order to provide additional information and give an opportunity for further education to the technical staff in Slovene paper mills.
